

“People don’t really care how much you know until they know how much you care.”

-Mike McKnight

Our beliefs about what we are and what we can be precisely determine what we will be.

-Anthony Robbins

“One good teacher in a lifetime may sometimes change a delinquent into a solid citizen.”

-Philip Wylie

“Education is not the filling of a pail, but the lighting of a fire.”

-William Butler Yeats

“Education is what survives when what has been learned has been forgotten.”

-B.F. Skinner

“Sometimes, we have to jump off cliffs and build wings on the way down.”

-Ray Bradbury

“Loving a child doesn't mean giving in to all his whims; to love him is to bring out the best in him, to teach him to love what is difficult.”

- Nadia Boulanger

“Love requires that we see beyond the flaws that live within the children we teach. Love requires that we see what they can become. It also requires that we love them for the people they are outside the instructional arena.”

- Richard Sagor

“Treat people as if they were what they should be, and you help them become what they are capable of becoming.”

- Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

Children need models rather than critics.

- Joseph Joubert
